

About the District

THE CINCINNATI 2030 DISTRICT is a membership organization facilitated by Green Umbrella, the region’s leading sustainability alliance. The District’s mission is to create a network of healthy, high-performing buildings in the city of Cincinnati. Participating members make a collective commitment to reduce their buildings’ energy use, water consumption and transportation emissions 50% by the year 2030.

By partnering directly with property owners and managers, developers, and commercial tenants, the Cincinnati 2030 District accelerates the development of healthy, high performing buildings by breaking down market barriers, encouraging collaboration and deploying innovative sustainability solutions.

The work of the Cincinnati 2030 District continues our city’s leadership in urban sustainability while creating a more livable, resilient community that is better able to attract a high caliber workforce and new economic development opportunities.

MEMBERS of the Cincinnati 2030 District are property owners and managers, developers, and commercial tenants who commit to assisting the District achieve its reduction goals through the implementation of sustainable, emissions-reducing solutions in their buildings. Membership in the Cincinnati 2030 District is free.

CINCINNATI continues to emerge as one of the country’s leading sustainable cities and has been ranked as the “Most Sustainable Metro Area” in the nation by Site Selection Magazine in 2017 and 2018.
