The Toronto 2030 District is seeking new members to join its Advisory Board. The Advisory Board is a voluntary panel of experts representing the private, public, and non-profit sector in Toronto who provide strategic advice to the 2030 District on achieving its goal of reducing building-related energy use, water consumption, and transportation emissions in downtown Toronto.

Roles and Responsibilities
The Toronto 2030 District Advisory Board members have the following core responsibilities:

• Inform the long-term vision and direction of the Toronto 2030 District
• Assist with identifying and acquiring funding or sponsorships
• Assist with identifying and developing strategic partnerships
• Make thoughtful recommendations regarding key tasks and/or projects
• Contribute to the recruitment of new 2030 District partners and advisory board members
• Serve as an ambassador and advocate of the Toronto 2030 District and its goals

We are seeking membership from a cross-section of the building sector including representatives from:

• property owners, managers, and developers
• professional services providers such as architects, engineers, contractors, and product suppliers
• academia, non-profits, and government
• or with specialized areas of expertise such as strategic financing, regulation, research and climate mitigation

The Advisory Board is non-voting and does not make decisions related to personnel, budgets, contracts, or the status of the Toronto 2030 District. Some of these duties are held by an Executive Committee which is made up of Advisory Board members including representatives from the Founding Sponsors, the Ontario Association of Architects and Sustainable Buildings Canada.

Commitment
Advisory Board meetings are held quarterly. Advisory Board members may also be called upon for advice and follow-up action between meetings. Term lengths are two years with the possibility for renewal.

Application Deadline
Please submit a letter of interest to toronto@2030districts.org by Oct. 28, 2019. Questions may be addressed to dliadsky@2030districts.org or 416-365-0816 ext. 290.

About the Toronto 2030 District
The Toronto 2030 District is a private-public initiative committed to achieving a low-carbon future. We are a broad stakeholder network comprised of property owners and managers, tenants, utilities, government, service providers and civil society within downtown Toronto. The District encompasses over 300 million square feet of office, commercial, residential, institutional, and industrial space. Our focus is on reducing building-related energy use, water consumption, and transportation emissions. Visit www.2030districts.org/toronto for more information.
